THE GOOD

- Great visuals and great story
- Good that you had a Twilio demo ready.

PS: Our slides were inspired by yours

THE BAD

- No explicit discussion about concepts, features descriptions, and design and implementation challenges.
- Might save money for those with phones, but might exclude students that don't have phones.
- A lot of questions that using a clicker raises were not resolved. Students might give their friends there phones for the duration of the class. Also how do students know when the time to receive responses is over.
- Phones might increase distractions in class. Clickers serve one purpose, while phones can be used for texting, Facebook..
